Kia ora koutou,

We are now well into NCEA external examinations, our senior students have all but finished and our school is filled mostly with Year 9 and 10 students. This is a real opportunity for our Year 10 students to step up and show us the leadership qualities they possess.

We celebrated amazing academic success last Tuesday at our Senior Prize giving. This was a real community celebration of the hard work and dedication our students, their families and our staff have all contributed to our high levels of academic success in the senior school this year. We are very proud of the academic achievement of our students but more so of the fine young people they have become. We wish all of our Year 13 students every success for their future. We will not forget about you and will always be here should you need advice or guidance – we know you are leaving us well prepared for the next step in life.

Dux for 2016 – Miranda Hodgson

Proxime Accessit – Sunjoo Lee

1st in Year 12 – Cameron Keeys

1st in Year 11 – Jamie McGahan

Rod Coe was our guest speaker at prize giving and he spoke about choices and consequences in true Mr Coe fashion. He told us of his life journey and the things that had been helpful to him and those that had not. He was encouraging our students to think of the consequences that are present for every choice they make. For our students as we encourage them to “Excellence in Everything” it is important for them to think through the consequences of the choices they make.

Today at Assembly we were able to celebrate the success of four of our Year 10 students who were awarded The Duke of Edinburgh’s Hillary Award at Bronze Level. These students have challenged themselves physically and given back to the community. Well done for all your hard work and effort, it certainly has paid off. Students awarded today were: Aroha Wiperi, Joana Schween, Georgia Jones and Samuel Dyer.

The challenge for our Year 9 and 10 students now is to ensure they are aiming for excellence in their AMPS results.

Nga mihi nui
